THEY STAY AT HOME.

Special Expert Walter, of the Census Bureau, Explains the Results of the Election at Home—Farmers' Standpoint.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The latest explanation of the election is given by Mr. Fred C. Walter, the special expert of the census bureau, in charge of the election work of the census. He says the election went the way it did because a million republican farmers stood at home last Tuesday. All the other surprises of the election seem to him to have been but the following out of natural laws well established by statistics.

In a paper prepared for delivery before Johns Hopkins university he says:

"The decrease in the per cent. of our population engaged in farming from 1850 to 1880 was exceedingly small. You may ask how, then, could the per cent. of our population in cities have increased from 12.5 to 22.6 per cent. Because the per cent. of our population in villages decreased from 23 to 25 per cent. During the eighties there was a change in this uniformity of decrease in population and villages engaged in the various industries. In 3,000 miles of counties on both sides of the Mississippi south of St. Paul every county has, for a stretch of twenty miles, shown an absolute decrease during the eighties in the farming population. It is not only so in almost every county in the north central states, but also in the counties containing the major part of the population westward to the Pacific.

"With this exodus of young people from the farms, the money and the wealth has been piled up in the cities. In the north central states which contain one-third of the wealth of this continent, the increase in the value of urban real estate has been six times as great as that of the rural prospects, which has actually failed to increase as fast as the mortgage indebtedness upon them. Is it any wonder that this election means more than the defeat of one party? There is nothing surprising to the statistician in the Cleveland vote except that it has been cut down by the new methods of balloting. The republican farmers have not become democrats. In the northwestern they voted largely as populists, but in the central and eastern states they voted against all three parties. The fact that a million republican farmers stayed home and took care of their own business together with the magnitude of the populist vote was the one warning feature of the election. The stay-at-home voters who decide nearly all doubtful elections, seem to be almost as numerous as in 1850 or in 1872. In 1850 there was no third party in almost strong enough to get an electoral vote, yet because of the dissatisfied farmers, as shown by the unusually large populist vote, the people's or republican party was the natural result. The populists have already elected twenty-five electors and the tremendous stay-at-home vote in every state shows that things are ripe for a reorganization of government. The only question is whether great minds will step to the front and lead the reorganization or whether it will be left to the political kickers and men with socialistic inclinations."

EXTRA SESSION TALK.

Friends of the President-Elect Declare that He Has Presided over the Calling of an Extra Session of the Fifty-third Congress, Various Reasons Rendered for the Extra Session.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Sun this morning says: The Sun is permitted to announce authoritatively this morning that it is the present determination of ex-President Cleveland not to call an extra session of congress after his inauguration on March 4, next. It is further announced that in the estimation at present of Mr. Cleveland and his closest friends an extraordinary session would turn out to be a profitless proceeding. His friends say that Mr. Cleveland must have time after his inauguration to look over the ground.

There is a natural objection also to the reassembling of congress immediately after the inauguration, on the ground that it would have more or less of an injurious influence on the business of the country.

Another objection to an extraordinary session in the minds of Cleveland's friends is that the republican party and its allies have demonstrated altogether too often a desire that Mr. Cleveland should call an extraordinary session. It is not customary for a new administration to accept counsel from the enemy.

But stronger than anything else is the feeling that an extraordinary session could be of no particular advantage, and that the more time there is to give Mr. Cleveland and the democratic leaders time to look around and determine just what course to pursue.

The best authorities said last night that it would take all next summer and fall to get under headway, and that it will be plenty of time to go ahead at the beginning of the Fifty-third congress, which assembles on the first Monday of December, 1893.

Mr. Cleveland speaks at the chamber of commerce dinner this evening.

Supposed to be Lost with All On Board.

SARATIA, Ont., Nov. 15.—It is generally believed that the schooner Hercules, owned by Findly McGibbons, of this place, has been lost with all hands. The vessel cleared from Port Huron with a cargo of lumber for this port and is now eight days overdue. The Hercules was commanded by Capt. Glass.

Delivered Himself Up After Killing an Intruder.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Sunday night a man rode up to the city jail here and asked to be taken into custody, saying that he had killed a man at a ranch south of here. He would give no particulars and asked that an officer be sent to the spot. Yesterday it was learned that his name is G. J. Durr, and that he had killed S. H. Fox, a cattleman and formerly a member of the Fifth United States cavalry, whom he had found in a compromising position with his wife upon his unexpected return to his home.

MILLIONS OF MONEY

To be Attracted to America by the World's Fair.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Financial News says it thinks that the long-expected boom in American railway securities may come now at any hour. The American speculators, it declares, have not yet grasped the potential source of the Chicago World's fair. There is nothing extravagant in the estimate that $250,000,000 of foreign money will be left in America as the harvest of the exhibition. American will be literally burdened with money-seeking investment.

German Social Democrats.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The annual national conference of the social democratic party was opened in Concordia hall last evening with a reception. More than 200 accredited delegates were present. Consignments among them were August Rebert, Wilhelm Liebknecht, Ignaz Auer, Paul Singer, and Deputies Delta, Metzger and Stadler. Carl Grittenberger, member for Nurnberg, and George Von Volmer, member from Munich, a leader of the German social democrats, were conspicuous in their absence, but it is said, will appear later. Singer was elected president and Gottlieb of Bremen, vice-president. Other work of organization occupied the rest of the evening. The programme of subjects already laid out for the discussion of the conference was approved with but trivial alterations.

The English Cotton Spinners' Strike.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—There is no prospect of a cessation of the cotton strike in England, as the operatives prefer to lock out. The second week of the lock-out opened with increased prospects of trouble. There are 4,000,000 spindles still at work on full time; 750,000 on short time and 12,000,000 are stopped. The masters' federation has asked the owners of the spindles on full time to shorten hours on Thursday. All have consented, except those at Bolton, who spin Egyptian cotton yarn chiefly. They plead that their hands are full of work. The leaders of the spinners state that if the employers generally adopt short time, with a corresponding reduction of wages, the struggle will terminate.

Bakery and Tobacco Factory Burned.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 15.—A destructive fire visited Ryeleigh Sunday, destroying a large bakery and the tobacco factory of Harvey & Co. The buildings were all new, having been built in the ruins of the great fire of last July. The tobacco factory was valued at $100,000, and on stock about $50,000, fully covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is unknown. A crowd of fifty hands are thrown out of employment. The plant will be rebuilt at once.
